By Craig Garretson

Sameh A. Sabet was named the 1995-1996 Student Employee of the Year during a ceremony held on April 11, 1996.

Sabet, a Computer Information Systems major, works as an Assistant Computer Lab Supervisor in the Computer Services Department. He was nominated by his supervisor, Najeeb Alli.

Cecil Broadnax, Executive Director of Career

Development Services, presented Sabet with the award. Sabet was selected out of a field of fourteen nominations from various NJIT departments.

Sabet's responsibilities include maintaining the PC Labs' hardware and software, scheduling and supervising all PC Lab Assistants and assisting NJIT students who use the PC Labs, and assisting the CSD Academic Consultants in providing computer-related support and problem resolution for all NJIT departments.

In evaluating Sabet's performance, Alli noted: "Sameh has a very high standard when it comes to the quality of his work. He is not satisfied until the job is done correctly and to the satisfaction of those whom he is helping."

The Student Employee of the Year Award is sponsored annual by the Office of Student Employment at NJIT.
